

Welcome to GroupBuild

Thank you for stepping forward to support our mission to empower advocacy, protect free speech, and help communities organize safely and truthfully. GroupBuild is a platform built by people like you—people who believe in civic action, ethical technology, and collective ownership. This document serves as a lightweight onboarding agreement to affirm your intentions and establish mutual respect between you and the GroupBuild team.

Our Mission

GroupBuild exists to enable civic collaboration, organize democratic advocacy, and promote verified truth in communication—especially under threat. Our platform blends open-source tooling with protected infrastructure, ensuring privacy, resilience, and local action.

Your Role as a Volunteer

As a volunteer contributor, you may participate in software development, research, content verification, education, design, outreach, or moderation. All contributors agree to uphold our principles: civil engagement, honest participation, and care for the platform's integrity and its users.

Core Commitments

- You agree to act respectfully and in good faith. - You will protect confidential information shared with you. - You agree that your contributions may be used under open-source or protected IP terms as outlined by the project leads. - You may discontinue participation at any time, and your access will be closed accordingly.

Ownership and Trust

GroupBuild uses an open-ownership model. Trustworthy, consistent contributors will be eligible for increased responsibilities and equity-based recognition. You will never be asked to surrender your identity unless you choose to share it, and your privacy is prioritized at every level.

By signing below, you acknowledge your intent to participate in GroupBuild under these terms, and to contribute ethically and cooperatively.
