Moody lighting, gritty realism.
2	00:07	00:14	We called ourselves free. We taught our children to be kind. Yet we scroll past in silence. And pretend, it's normal. Guilt / Numb Montage of news clips and social media feeds showing civil unrest, an angry child with a protest sign, fading into a man scrolling emotionlessly on his phone. Muted color palette, newsprint overlay style.

Shame. Grave / Reflective Flickering candlelight fading into darkening courtroom and voting booth. Silhouettes watching in silence. Visual decay effect to black and white across frames.
4	00:23	00:30	But. We The People. We are many. They are few. And Democracy. It isn't what we watch. It's what we build. Hopeful / Empowered Rising shot of citizens gathering in sunny public town center, overlay of a digital map glowing with pins, close-up of hands creating protest signs, young people painting murals of people.
5	00:30	00:31	We are GroupBuild. We don't serve the system. We rewrite it. Resolved / Strategic Stylized overlay of the GroupBuild UI showing pins dropping on a map, chat interface opening, and event scheduling. Futuristic tech overlays with activist energy.
6	00:31	00:45	Find our people. Feel our power. Feel yours. Map. Meet. Move. Warm / Mobilizing Faces light up as people find nearby supporters on screen, hug in person, march together in unity. Emotive camera pans, diverse ages and backgrounds.
7	00:45	00:54	No kings. No scapegoats. Just us. Determined / Unifying Montage of grassroots organizations, no single leader. Groups forming circles, voting on whiteboards, people lifting each other. Torchlight shared hand to hand.
